THE RITE BULLETIN

From The Personal Representative
Don Munks, 33°

Our in person meetings have started and our 1st dinner was great. Alice does such a fantastic job with the meal, we're blessed to have her (and Marvin too!). This fall will be busy with degree work, meetings, the Feast of Tishri, and our Annual Christmas party on December 20, 2021. If you were not able to attend the September meeting we missed you and look forward to seeing you at our next meetings. If you need a ride please contact a Valley member you know or call Terry at 425-610-4561.

It is really important that we be at the degree meetings to support our candidates and show them how much we care about them and how much we appreciate learning more about Masonic education. We talk about making men better through education and mentoring and we need to show it in person.

We will continue to hold the Executive/ Temple Board meetings via Zoom as it gives more opportunity for more members to attend without having to drive to the Valley.

These meetings are meant to talk and plan what both boards will be doing for the present and future of the Temple and our Valley. It is our money that we use to finance these objectives so I appreciate comment on our projects and goals. It is also good to hear ideas from as many as possible, so please take the time to join us if you can.

I hope that everyone and their families are healthy and avoiding the effects of Covid, the flu, or colds. Please take care and I look forward to seeing you at future meetings.
Fraternally, Don

Congratulations to our very own Personal Rep, Brother Don Munks, 32°, KCCH who was coroneted with his 33rd degree and Brother Richard L. Jones, 32° on his investiture as a 32°, KCCH at ceremonies held last month in Tacoma, Washington

From the Desk of the General Secretary

By Terry Grove, 33°

This month we will be conferring the 4° Degree "Secret Master" on October 4th - we come across the word "Duty" many times. We should stop for a moment and reflect on what these duties are. The degree talks of Masonic duty generally and the specific duties of being a Secret Master. Have you recently thought about our Masonic Duties? We are not going to spell them out as most of them are contained in the esoteric work and I would suggest that each of us pull out our cipher or copy of the Standard Work and review them so - here we will merely list the "keywords".

We all remember the three great tenets of a Mason's profession: Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth which were taught in the Entered Apprentice degree.

The four Cardinal Virtues: Temperance, Fortitude, Prudence, and Justice.

In the Fellowcraft degree these were expanded on - and we promised to obey the rules and regulations of our Lodge, answer and obey, aid and assist, and to not cheat, wrong or defraud.

In the third degree our duties go further such as keep the secrets of, not be present at, to not visit or converse Masonically..., our duties to a Master Masons family, and to not strike a Brother in anger. There are many more insights to our duties and we recommend reading again the Apron lecture, the various charges for each degree and to refresh your recollection of the working tools.

In the 4th Degree we learn of Duty, of our mission as Masons to serve our fellows, our country and mankind, and of the Nine Great Masonic virtues built upon three great pillars: Truthfulness, Endurance, Independence, Justice, Mercy, Equity, Silence, Devotion, and Attainment. We are given the key to self-knowledge, and our feet are set firmly upon the path which leads there, and the way to achieve that goal is pointed out. We must learn to work for the work's sake, without desire of approbation or reward. Work and action have their own rewards. It is the duty of a man who seeks and accumulates greater knowledge to know and practice those ethical and moral principles which demonstrate Man's highest, and most noble nature.

To be a true and faithful Brother Master Mason and a Scottish Rite Mason is one of mans greatest attainments. It behooves all of us to daily practice the virtues and lessons of Masonry and to insure that we are truly using the 24 inch gauge to divide our time whereby, we devote eight hours to the service of God and distressed worthy brethren. Our annual 'Feast of Tishri' is scheduled for October 18th.

In conclusion I remind you of the closing charge which is used in many Blue Lodges in Washington. "Brethren, we are now about to quit this sacred retreat of friendship and virtue, to mingle again with the outer world. Amid its concerns and employments, forget not the duties which you have heard so frequently inculcated, and so forcefully recommended in this Lodge. Be diligent, prudent, temperate, discreet. Remember that at this altar you have promised to befriend and relieve every Brother who shall need your assistance. You have been enjoined to remind a Brother in a most friendly manner of his fault, to endeavor to aid his reformation, and to defend his character. These generous principles extend further, for every human being has a claim upon your kind offices. Do good unto all. Finally, my Brethren, be ye all of one mind; live in peace; and may the God of Love and Peace delight to dwell with you and bless you."

How can we make ourselves, our families, our communities, and our nation better than by walking uprightly before God and man in our several stations as men and Masons? Show-up and support or participate with your lodge or Valley. COVID-19 has impacted our society - however, we still meet as Scottish Rite Masons (depending on city, county or state restrictions). We will see you in lodge. It's up to us to lead the way.

The Society of the Rosy Cross

Ill. George Lofthus, Master of Kadosh

Some Rosicrucian traditions related their foundation, as a society to Christian Rosenkruetz, 1378 -1484, who lived to be 106 years old! Rosenkruetz is the legendary, possibly allegorical founder of the Rosicrucian Order. He was credited to have written three manifestos including the following from "Chymical Wedding of Christian Rosenkruetz." At some far distant time Rosenkruetz wearing a white linen coat with a broad red band, placed four red roses on his hat; made his way to a strange castle. On arrival Rosenkruetz witnessed a royal wedding and was invested with "The Order of the Golden Fleece." His curiosity led him to a secret chamber where he found Venus asleep on a bed. Then, before escaping the castle, Rosenkruetz went to the castle library, where he confiscated the "Kings Secret Book of Wisdom!"

The Rosicrucian tradition of the Scottish Middle Ages grew in accordance with the interest of the Hermetic subjects which flourished during the 17th and 18th centuries. The Alchemical schools of Europe used the symbol of the Rosy Cross (or Rose Croix) and evolved a complete philosophical symbolism incorporating elements of the old Operative Craft Guild mystery traditions.

During the 17th and 18th centuries different kinds of Rosicrucian Societies emerged; some were Masonic or quasi-Masonic. In 1747, Prince Charles Edward Stewart with his supporters, established the Chapter of Arras in France with the title: "Chapitre Primordian de Rose Croix." In the Chapter, Prince Charles described himself as "King of England, France, Scotland and Ireland;" the old Stewart Sovereign title.

DO THE LITTLE THINGS

BY DEWEY WOLLSTEIN, PGM

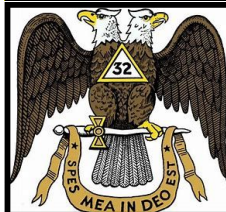

For many years I have observed the earnest and faithful efforts of the officers of lodges as they held meetings for the purpose of suggesting ways to improve attendance and maintain interest. In every instance some outstanding program has been launched, which if carried to completion, always bears fruit which is the result of honest planning. However, it is my conclusion that all we hope for, the molding of Masonic principles into a strong Masonry, must be the result of the doing of little things. Everything else, it seems, is subordinate to the idea of keeping fresh Masonic teachings through the medium of doing. Again and again we refer to the "Old Time Masonry." Yet we know full well that the principles of Masonry are the same today as they were centuries ago. What do we really mean? What is that spirit that we must recapture?

Get out the minutes of your lodge and review the history of "those old days." Strike deep into the heart of that history and then report truthfully. What do you find? A Masonic funeral was an occasion at which was reflected the obligation of the living to the dead. Masons left their work and devoted all the time necessary to pay due and proper respect to the departed and to the loved ones. Look at the record of your lodge as it reports visitations to the sick, acts of charity to the unfortunate, comfort to the heartbroken. Review the work of committees, the work of brothers who asked for no titles, no recognition, but only the opportunity to render service. Look over the names of those Masons, those working brothers, and see if they were not the same who were leaders in their communities. Also look at the heritage they left. It was not measured in dollars. It was character.

That which we seek is within us. "Old Time Masonry" is not a thing that belongs to the past. It is a Spirit that is the result of Doing Great Little Things

FEAST OF TISHRI

The Feast of Tishri is celebrated during the Jewish Festival of Sukkoth and by Scottish Rite Masons. It also commemorated the completion and dedication of King Solomon's Temple. Sources do not agree about exactly when the Temple was started and finished. It is believed the corner stone was laid in 1012 B.C.E. and the Temple was completed in a little more than seven years on or about 1004 B.C.E. King Solomon postponed the dedication of the Temple until the Feast of Tishri, on the 15th day of the month of Tishri which was six months after its completion, The month of Tishri is the first month of the Jewish sacred year.

One of my fondest early recollections was the first time I went into the temporary structure my grandfather built next to the duplex we lived in (a sukkah mentioned below). When I was three, early one fall evening my mother told me to go downstairs to the sukkah. My grandfather was praying and the room glowed from a single candle light. He was dipping bread in a thick yellow substance. I remember how special I felt as he smiled and gave me my first taste of honey.

The following is part of an article which was published by William J. Jason, 33° in 1999 and provides us more insight into the significance of the Feast of Tishri today.

The Feast of Tishri, Thanksgiving and the Mission of Freemasonry

Thanksgiving for the Creator's bounty should be the beginning of our service to others today.

The Feast of Tishri in Freemasonry derives from the Jewish Festival of Sukkoth which is marked chiefly by the building of temporary structures (sukkah, singular; sukkoth, plural) made of boards, canvass, etc. and roofed with branches, especially pine branches. These structures are built against or near a house or synagogue and used during the Festival of Sukkoth chiefly as dining areas. Beginning on the 15th day of the month of Tishri the feast is celebrated for eight days by Orthodox and Conservative Jews outside of Israel, and for seven days by Reform Jews and by Jews in Israel.

Sukkoth celebrates the harvest and commemorates the period after the exodus from Egypt during which the Jews wandered in the wilderness and lived in huts. Also called the Feast of Booths and the Feast of Tabernacles, the biblical Festival of Sukkoth (also spelled Succoth) relates to the general celebration of Thanksgiving in America today and to Freemasonry, particularly the Scottish Rite's observance of the Feast of Tishri. Following the example of the Israelites and the New England Pilgrims, who started to celebrate a thanksgiving during a snowstorm and were inspired by the Biblical injunction to set aside a day of prayer and thanksgiving to God, a day which has become a traditional American observance, Thanksgiving Day. Scottish Rite Freemasons gather to acknowledge the mercies which God has poured upon them with lavish hand. It is a time of rejoicing, yet a time to pay humble adoration to the Great Architect of the Universe, without whose aid there would not be any harvest Freemasonry is an organization with no religious agenda and these Masonic observances are done in a manner which is acceptable to men of all faiths. The Feast of Tishri one of the Rite's several ceremonies observing biblical events - for example, Maundy Thursday, Passover, and Easter Sunday.

The evolution of the Jewish feast of Succoth into an American national day, Thanksgiving, could not have occurred except in a climate of freedom and independence. Thus, this holiday is uniquely American and Masonic, since the same culture that nurtured religious freedom and toleration also nurtured the growth of Freemasonry. It is no coincidence that Freemasonry, while universal, has reached its greatest strength and acceptance here in the United States. Also, I suggest one reason for this growth and acceptance has been the striving of Masons to attain the character of the citron - to possess knowledge, that is, faith, while performing good works.

Rabbi Julius Nodel, 32°, in a Feast of Tishri address to the St. Louis Scottish Rite Bodies some years ago, said: "Among the symbols of Succoth are four species of plants - the citron, the branch of the palm tree, the myrtle leaves, and the willow leaves. The citron plant produces both fruit and fragrance. The palm produces fruit but no fragrance. The myrtle produces fragrance but no fruit, and the willow produces neither fruit nor fragrance. This teaches us that there are also four kinds of people. There are those that have knowledge and good deeds - they correspond to the citron. There are those who live a life of good deeds, but have no knowledge - they are like the palm. There are those who have knowledge, but perform no good deeds - they are like the myrtle, and there are those who have neither knowledge nor good deeds - they are like the willow. Yet, on Succoth, all of these different species of plants are placed together and bound as one, thus teaching us that though there are different kinds of people on Earth, accomplishments and failures, with their own interests and desires, accomplishments and failures, they must still be bound together in one universal brotherhood."

Consider the manifold charities of all Masonic and Masonic-related Bodies - the Blue Lodges, the Scottish and York Rites, the Shrine, the Eastern Star, Daughters of the Nile, etc. Each actively supports its own philanthropies as well as the charities of the other Masonic Bodies. The second, recent edition of "Masonic Philanthropies, a Tradition of Caring" contains as authoritative a tabulation as possible of Masonic philanthropy today. The author of this book, S. Brent Morris, 33°, conservatively estimates the Craft contributes in excess of two million dollars per day, of which 70% goes to the general American public. This sum is not given under duress or with the expectation of recognition or return, but voluntarily as a matter of duty.

We sometimes are asked why Masons devote so much of their time and energy to the cause of aiding those less fortunate. Possibly this little fable from Jewish folklore might explain. A wise and learned Rabbi, noting that his most promising student seemed saddened and preoccupied, asked the young man, "What's troubling you, my son?"

The student quietly answered, "Rabbi, I honestly think I could have done more."

To which the wise man responded, "THEN BEGIN!"

In the various Bodies of Masonry, men of all faiths may unite and each, in his own way, begins.

Words to Live By: "Pride slays thanksgiving, but a humble mind is the soil out of which thanks naturally grow. A proud man is seldom grateful man, for he never thinks he gets as much as he deserves".
