THE RITE BULLETIN

From The Personal Representative

More Than a Portrait

Gratitude, service, and the legacy we build each day

One wall in our hallway is dedicated to members of our Valley who received the 33°, Inspector General Honorary. When I look at their portraits, I am reminded that the Valley of Everett is what it is today because of their devotion to Freemasonry and the Scottish Rite, and their service to the community. With Thanksgiving approaching, this seems like a fitting time to express our gratitude and consider the legacy these Brothers entrusted to us.

Last month, I attended a funeral service for one of the Brothers whose portrait is on that wall. His passing reminded me that the portraits and names displayed there represent more than honors. Each represents a life of service, a commitment to our Craft, and a contribution to the legacy of this Valley. I am grateful not only for what these Brothers accomplished, but also for the example they left for us to follow.

Gratitude and legacy go hand in hand. Gratitude reminds us that much of what we enjoy today was made possible by the work and sacrifice of others. Legacy asks us to think about what we will leave behind. We honor the Brothers who came before us by showing that same dedication in our relationships, our service to the Valley, and our work in the community.

I have thought a great deal about legacy during the last few years. Perhaps that is natural as we get older and look back on what we have done with our lives. I sometimes wish I had begun thinking about it sooner. If I had asked myself in my early twenties, "How do I want to be remembered?" I might have approached some relationships differently and made different choices.

Our legacy will not be measured only by the offices we held, the titles we received, or the meetings we attended. It is shaped by the choices we make each day: loving and caring for our families & friends, encouraging a Brother, welcoming a candidate, calling a member when he is absent, and serving our community. These quiet acts may never earn us a place on that wall, but they help shape the character of our Valley and allow us to build our legacy while there is still time.

As we give thanks this season, I hope each of us will think of a Brother who has influenced our Masonic journey. If he is still with us, take a moment to thank him. If he is not, we can honor his memory by offering that same friendship, guidance, and encouragement to another Brother. That is how gratitude becomes part of our legacy.

We inherited this Valley because of the faithful service of those who came before us. Now it is our responsibility to care for what they built, strengthen it through our own service, and pass it on to the Brothers who follow. I have come to believe that legacy is not something we leave only at the end of our lives. We build it each day through the way we treat others and the choices we make.

I would be interested in hearing what legacy means to you and which Brother helped shape your Masonic journey.

I fell asleep the other night
And while I had my snooze,
I dreamed each member stepped right up
And promptly paid his dues
But what I found 'twas but a dream

Valley of Everett Scottish Rite 2026 College Scholarship Recipients

By Joe Towns, 32°, Director Everett Valley, Scottish Rite Scholarship Foundations of Washington

On October 5, the Everett Valley Scottish Rite honored five recipients of the Scottish Rite Scholarship Foundation of Washington (SRSFW) awards. We also welcomed Sofia Rodriquez, recipient of the William R. Miller/ Alvin W. Jorgenson Scottish Rite Scholarship. The evening gave Valley members an opportunity to meet the recipients and celebrate their achievements alongside a strong turnout of brothers and family members. After social time and a delicious dinner provided by our caterer, everyone gathered upstairs for the awards ceremony.

Each year, the SRSFW awards nearly $500,000 in merit-based scholarships—not need-based aid—to recipients across our jurisdiction. The rigorous application process begins with applicants confirming that they meet the minimum qualifications, followed by a personal interview to assess their alignment with our expectations and our mission of promoting American values through education. Applicants must then submit a detailed application outlining their field of study, future goals, honors, awards, activities, charitable service, work experience, reputation, citizenship, leadership, values, and community involvement. They must also provide three letters of reference from various sources and their most recent official transcripts.

Once the applications are complete, they are submitted to the directors in each Valley, who convene for an intensive scoring session to select the recipients.
This year, 337 students applied, and 46 received scholarships. Five recipients were from the Everett Valley, including the applicants who ranked first and second overall.

Although the application process is demanding, it is also rewarding. Each recipient receives $3,000 in their junior year and, provided they maintain a GPA of 3.00 or higher, receives a $3,000 renewal scholarship in their senior year. The valley also provided each winner with a scholarship certificate and a water bottle with their.

Scholarships were awarded to

Cade Allmon - Western Washington University
Camrynn Scribner - Central Washington University
James Free - Central Washington University
Annalise Brush - University of Washington
Leila DeFolio - University of Washington
Sofia Rodrigues– St Martin University – recipient of the William R. Miller/Alvin W. Jorgenson scholarship in the amount of $2800.00

A Mason is not necessarily a member of a lodge. In a broad sense, he is any person who daily tries to live the Masonic life, and to serve intelligently the needs of the Great Architect.

MASONIC BIOGRAPHIES

BRO. WILLIAM RUFAS DEVANE KING (1786-1853)

William Rufus DeVane King (April 7, 1786 – April 18, 1853) was an American politician and diplomat who served as the 13th vice president of the United States from March 4, 1853, until his death. He previously served as a U.S. representative from North Carolina, a U.S. senator from Alabama, and minister to France.

A Democratic-Republican and later a Democrat, King was a leading political figure in early Alabama and was elected as one of the state's first U.S. senators after its admission to the Union in 1819. He aligned politically with Andrew Jackson and served multiple terms in the Senate, including as president pro tempore. During the sectional disputes preceding the American Civil War, he supported slavery and opposed abolitionist efforts in the territories, while also opposing secession.

Brother King was elected vice president in 1852 on the ticket headed by Franklin Pierce. Because he was ill with tuberculosis, Congress permitted him to take the oath of office in Cuba, making him the only U.S. vice president to be sworn in on foreign soil. He died 45 days later, without carrying out any duties of the office. Historians have also written about his close relationship with James Buchanan.

Shortly afterward, King returned to Chestnut Hill. He died of tuberculosis on April 18, 1853, two days after his arrival, at age 67. He was interred in a vault on the plantation and later reburied in Old Live Oak Cemetery in Selma, Alabama. King never carried out any duties of the office.

Brother William R. King's Masonic history is well-documented, with clear lodge progression dates and a confirmed affiliation with Phoenix Lodge No. 8 in Fayetteville, NC, making him a notable figure in both American political and Masonic history
